MEDSPEED OBTAINS ISO 9001:2000 CERTIFICATION

-Leading Healthcare Logistics Company Achieves Operational Accreditation-

CHICAGO, December 22, 2008 – MedSpeed LLC, the Midwest’s leading provider of outsourced transportation services to the healthcare industry, announced today that it has obtained ISO9001:2000 certification of their operations headquartered outside Chicago, Illinois.

“With a culture of quality and service already in place, pursuing ISO certification was a natural progression for MedSpeed,” states Jon Crispi, director of quality. “We are committed to achieving the highest standards of quality, efficiency and service for our healthcare customers in all that we do.”

The new ISO Quality Management System (QMS) emphasizes customer satisfaction and defect prevention and will enhance MedSpeed’s existing operations by achieving maximum control of processes and assuring services conform to standards while continuing to meet customer needs. MedSpeed’s QMS also provides a framework to utilize lean six sigma principles and methodologies for continuous quality improvement.

MedSpeed Chief Operating Officer, Tim O’Day, states, “We are pleased to announce that we have successfully completed a milestone goal by obtaining ISO 9001:2000 certification. Our expertise and specialization in healthcare transportation alone make us a unique company. This new distinction further separates MedSpeed in the marketplace.”
